

JetAdvice and Pulsar Technologies agree on promising strategic cooperation

Copenhagen, August 2017: A new Denmark-Spain alliance gives the MPS customers of Pulsar Technologies the possibility to choose the JetAdvice Data Collector (JADC) as their preferred Data Collection Agent

The world leading JADC collects data from network connected devices and automatically discovers newly connected devices in the printer fleet. The JADC is designed to scan networks automatically at defined intervals and to deliver secure and trustworthy data for precise decision making to clients all over the world.

Delivering reliable and value-creating data

Pulsar is one of the global leaders in solutions for monitoring IT equipment, and the agreement with the Spanish company is very promising. Kim Niebling, CEO of EuroForm A/S, the company behind the JetAdvice brand, says:

"We are glad to enter into this cooperation with Pulsar. We see it as a very promising alliance for both parties".

"The JetAdvice Data Collector works beautifully together with the new version of Pulsar's contract management tool (MPxP 3.8) and will bring reliable and value-creating data to Pulsar's MPS customers".

About Pulsar Technologies

Pulsar Technologies is an organization dedicated to bring to the marketplace the tools needed for monitoring IT equipment, the basis for any real pay per use program. Pulsar works to capture usage clicks in the most efficient way.

Operating in Europe, North America, and North Africa, Pulsar continues its expansion with the creation of Pulsar Services Portugal and the strategic alliances it has formed since its inception in 2000.

Pulsar firmly believes in the immense opportunities that the web and cloud technologies bring to the world of information technology.

Pulsar's technological development has led to multiple patents as well as Pulsar being selected by both the Spanish and European governments for R&D grants. Pulsar strives to make the use of information technology a simple and satisfying experience.

About EuroForm

EuroForm A/S is a family-driven Danish software development company. EuroForm A/S is the strong pillar behind the JetAdvice product family that consists of state-of-the-art printing software for optimizing the use and management of printer fleets.

JetAdvice makes Managed Print Services (MPS) easy and efficient with on-demand and in-depth device management.

Since the dawn of the Internet, EuroForm A/S has navigated after these five beacons: Constant innovation, reliability, simplicity, security and supreme quality.

EuroForm A/S has more than 10 million devices on contract at companies all around the globe.

» For more information, please contact:
Kim Niebling, CEO at EuroForm A/S
Tlf.: +45 20 28 83 38
Mail: kn@euroform.com